Aims of Life

- To provide a free, confidential pregnancy care service to all women and men regardless of race, colour, creed, marital status or age
- To provide counselling and support around the possible outcomes of pregnancy
- To support women and men who are grieving after abortion
- To provide post-pregnancy support to parents following birth
- To offer an education programme on issues related to pregnancy
- To provide a service that is in keeping with respect for human life from the moment of fertilisation

Facts about Life

- Life opened its caring service in Ireland in 1981
- Life is a voluntary organisation registered for charitable purposes (No.9172) and has no political or religious affiliations
- Life believes in the uniqueness and value of every human life and we work from a position of respect and non judgemental acceptance of women
- LIFE provides a free and confidential service including pregnancy testing, pregnancy counselling, and post abortion counselling to women and their families

- LIFE operates a nationwide crisis pregnancy Helpline, which offers telephone counselling and information from 9am to 9pm Mon - Sat and from 3pm to 9pm on Sunday.
- LIFE is staffed by trained volunteers and by paid professional counsellors.
- LIFE provides accommodation for single pregnant women and for mothers with babies and also has access to an accommodation network throughout Ireland.
- LIFE has access to a wide range of professional help and support in medical, legal and employment areas.
- LIFE is a member of Treoir (Federation of Services for Unmarried Parents and their Children).
- LIFE liaises with social workers in the HSE, the Maternity hospitals, and with other voluntary and statutory groups
- LIFE provides a free educational service for schools, colleges and youth groups based on its own educational material dealing with teenage pregnancy and moral decision making on the topic of abortion.
- LIFE is part funded by the HSE Crisis Pregnancy Programme but also relies on fundraising events, donations, bequests and membership subscriptions
